Description

A Provençal oak sideboard dating from the late 18th century, featuring a two-part structure entirely lacquered in antique gray. The upper section features a pair of two-part paneled doors, with the upper panel embellished by an elegant iron latticework, ideal for showcasing displayed items. The lower section consists of two paneled doors, topped by two practical drawers for storing cutlery and table linens. The rounded legs provide visual continuity throughout the piece, while the paneled sides coherently complete the design. An example of French craftsmanship that combines functionality and aesthetics, perfect for classic and sophisticated interiors. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully as possible through
