Description

Brutalist sculpture in patinated bronze - Fish and Coral - 1970s (45 cm) Description:A superb vintage art sculpture circa 1970, fully in keeping with the Brutalist and naturalist design movement of the second half of the 20th century. This work in cast bronze depicts two stylized fish swimming amidst highly textured marine life. It consists of an openwork panel mimicking the honeycomb structure of coral or a sea sponge, as well as spiral bronze rods simulating the fluid movement of water and seaweed. Features and highlights: Precious material: Entirely crafted from solid bronze with a remarkable brown and black patina, accented with gold leaf or polished highlights, creating a magnificent play of light.Artisanal technique: The organic and raw appearance of the scales and the reef attests to high-quality artistic
