Description

This oil painting depicts a lively cavalry battle scene, a genre typical of Baroque painting at the turn of the 17th and 18th centuries. Stylistically, the work recalls the styles of masters of the genre such as Francesco Graziani, known as Ciccio Napoletano, or the circle of Jacques Courtois (the Burgundian).The scene depicts a frenzied clash between knights in an open landscape with trees and hills in the background, characterized by vigorous brushstrokes and strong contrasts of light--typical of Baroque battle painters. The small-format composition is typical of the Baroque "battle painters" active between Rome and Naples.Very good condition.Dimensionscanvas 24 x 19.5 cm++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++DELIVERY AND
