Antique White Porcelain Openwork Cake Stand, Late 19th Century

170 EUR

Period : 19th century
Condition : Bon état
Material : Porcelain
Diameter : 23,5

Description

Antique openwork white porcelain pedestal bowl resting on a turned foot, unmarked but certainly of European production, probably Italian, dating from the late 19th century.
Overall good condition. Some original firing defects can be observed within the openwork decoration (visible in the last two photographs). The metal screw securing the bowl to the foot shows old oxidation. These imperfections do not affect either the stability or the decorative elegance of the piece.
