Description

Two beautiful decorative pieces made of carved, polychrome, and gilded wood, dating from the second half of the 18th century.Each depicts a winged angel's head, known as a cherub, flanked by foliage and ribbon scrollwork at the top and surmounted by a candlestick.Lovely architectural details adorn the draped urns with their brown lacquered backgrounds.Note: In architecture and furniture, winged angel heads appear in lintels, altarpieces, etc., symbolizing innocence and divine purity.The fire pot, widely used in 18th-century classical architecture, evokes the eternal flame, faith, or prestige.There are some chips and scattered wear on the gilding and paint (see the detailed photos); however, I consider both pieces to be in good condition given their age.These two pieces are displayed on two
