Description

This classical portrait of a bearded man was painted in 1824 by Joseph Tremier, a 19th-century Viennese painter and restorer (1805-1885). Here is an overview of the main historical facts and notable events of his life:Personal life: Together with his wife Franziska (Fanny), he adopted the orphan Marie Viktoria Liebenthaler. She grew up with them and later became a famous opera singer, Marie Wilt, performing Wagnerian roles at the Vienna Court Opera.Artistic work: Among his works was the altarpiece of St. Margaret (a copy after Raphael from 1832) for the parish church in Grillenberg.Portraits: Historical photographs of the painter, taken by the famous court photographer Josef Löwy, are preserved in collections such as the Vienna Museum's online
