Description

A charming pair of Art Deco bookends from France, made around 1920. Each bookend shows a stylised black metal goose with gold-coloured wings, eyes and feet, standing on a base of black marble with white veining. The undersides are finished with green felt.The two geese face each other and bring a playful, elegant touch to a bookcase, desk or mantelpiece.A decorative pair that is typical of the refined animal figures of the Art Deco period.
