Very good condition. Sold with invoice/certificate. Fast and careful shipping.André DEMONCHY (1914-2003) was a major figure in French naïve art during the second half of the 20th century. A war orphan and railroad worker for the SNCF, this self-taught artist was propelled into the spotlight of the art world as early as 1947. His exceptional talent was immediately recognized by the leading figure of Surrealism, André Breton, who wrote the preface for his first Paris exhibition. The eminent critic Anatole Jakovsky subsequently became his ardent advocate. Now internationally recognized, his
