A beautiful set of three hat forms, also known as milliner's molds. Made of solid wood, each one is slightly different in shape and size. They come with their own stand, which fit each mold perfectly. With traces of glued-on paper and pin holes, these forms have clearly been put to good use! On the underside of each one are holes for various adjustments, for attaching them to stands or workbenches. In good overall condition, with normal wear and tear and a few minor cracks.
