Description

Small writing desk with black-lacquered wooden drawers; it features five drawers on the front, including a large one at the top. The decoration is also visible on the other side, but the drawers are decorative only. This small desk, composed of antique parts--some dating from the 18th century--bears a label from the 1997 Tajan auction, originating from the Hôtel George V.
The top beneath the leather has been restored, and the leather itself is quite old.The black paint needs touch-ups in places, and there are minor imperfections on the legs, but it is very charming and steeped in history...
