Description

This sumptuous piece of furniture from the Napoleon III period, crafted from blackened pear wood in the 19th century, pays homage to the masterpieces of Charles-André Boulle, Louis XIV's iconic cabinetmaker.Its curved door immediately catches the eye: entirely inlaid with finely chiseled brass volutes on a sumptuous tortoiseshell background, it offers a contrast of rare intensity and exceptional decorative richness.The original lock, which is fully functional, is accompanied by superb bronze lock plates, further enhancing the piece's authenticity and refinement.The side posts are enhanced by beautiful espagnolette latches and gilded bronze finials, testifying to the masterful craftsmanship of Second Empire artisans. The highly ornate sides are embellished with bronze figures and
