Legras Vase With An Autumn Landscape Design, Gallé-daum Era

480 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : 9

Height : 14

Description

Legras Vase - Autumn Landscape, Acid-Etched DesignAn elegant Legras vase featuring a flared silhouette, tapering at the bottom and resting on a separate circular base.It is adorned with a delicate acid-etched landscape design, depicting a rural scene in autumnal hues. Tall trees with slender trunks and bare branches stand out against a background of powdery pink, pale yellow, and soft green hues. Their sparse foliage, with its russet and coppery hues, evokes late fall, when nature gradually sheds its last leaves before the arrival of winter.The composition subtly plays on the contrasts between the dark silhouettes of the trees, the soft colors of the landscape, and the various shades of the glass. The horizon, outlined with fine green and yellow lines, adds depth and perspective to this poetic depiction of nature.This

Dealer

AntikVie
Art-Nouveau, Silverware & Napoleon III
Tel : 0658114469
Mobile : 0767885726

54 Rue Francois Peissel
Lyon 69300

vase reflects the late 19th- and early 20th-century taste for naturalistic landscapes, a theme dear to the Legras glassworks, which developed a particularly rich decorative repertoire inspired by the countryside and the seasons.A charming decorative piece that celebrates the melancholic beauty of autumn.