Description

A vintage sideboard from the 1960s made of stained mahogany-veneered wood, featuring a functional and linear design. It has a drop-down door that reveals an interior space suitable for storing small items or documents, and is complemented by open drawers ideal for everyday organization. The enameled metal legs provide stability and add a touch of modernity to the piece. Although it is in fair overall condition, the finish may require restoration to restore its original luster. A piece that combines practicality and style, perfect for spaces that call for flexible, retro-inspired furniture solutions.MOMOMO0323602
