Description

Galerie Georgette Classics is pleased to offer this charming Louis XVI-style display cabinet painted in gray. Made in the late 19th century, this display cabinet features two glass doors and two visible drawers inside the cabinet. It is painted in shades of gray and finely carved with pearl motifs. The side posts are rounded and carved with floral motifs. The piece as a whole is very attractive and well-balanced. Please note that this display cabinet can be paired with two sideboards from the same collection, featuring the same motifs and patina, as shown in the last photos.
