19th Century Blue John Spath Fluorspar, White Marble & Ashford Marble Urn

6 750 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Restauré

Material : Marble

Width : 9.5

Diameter : 9.7

Height : 33.7

Depth : 9.5

Description

Fine & Large 19th-Century Blue John, Statuary White Marble & Ashford Black Marble Urn. An elegant covered urn of classical inspiration, distinguished by richly figured Blue John in shades of violet, amber, white and deep blue. The polished stone reveals a striking crystalline structure, its translucent depths and flowing bands of colour lending considerable richness to the composition. The ovoid body, surmounted by a domed cover and ball finial, rests upon a gracefully turned socle and square Blue John pedestal. Stepped statuary white marble mouldings and Ashford black marble accents complete an ornament of refined architectural presence. In good restored condition for its age use and handling.

Dealer

Important Pieces
Bronzes dorés, marbre, pierres rares
Tel : 00447767370247

Walton On Thames KT12