Liège-style Chest Of Drawers

1 300 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

Curved Louis XV-style chest of drawers, made in northern France, likely in the Liège regionBeautiful oak chest of drawers with four rows of drawers. Its curved, double-stepped front is enlivened by molded and scalloped panels that play with the light and emphasize the piece's fluid lines.The rounded side panels are adorned with motifs carved in slight relief, and the molded belt elegantly follows the curve of the front. The piece rests on blackened claw feet, an uncommon detail that gives it a great deal of character. The drop-style handles and cut-out brass keyholes, in the Rocaille style, add a luminous touch to the warm brown patina of the oak.The top, with its molded edge, bears the marks of its history. A piece full of character, both spacious and practical, that will fit just as well in an entryway
