Description

A magnificent bronze sculpture with a copper-colored patina depicting a beautiful young woman draped in the classical style, captured in a pensive pose.This feminine figure, full of grace and delicacy, is embodied in a classical pose. The young woman leans slightly, her gaze imbued with deep meditation, one of her fingers raised near her face in a gesture full of modesty and mystery.The artist displays remarkable mastery in the rendering of the fabric. The flowing, richly pleated gown naturally hugs the contours of the body while creating striking plays of light and shadow. The fabrics cascade in elegant swirls, revealing the finesse of the details: delicately sculpted patterns, ornate borders, and the visual lightness of the drapery.The hair, meticulously styled into voluminous curls, is crowned with floral and botanical motifs, lending a rustic and neoclassical spirit. The figure also wears finely chiseled jewelry, such as an ornate bracelet encircling her wrist and a cork bracelet on her ankle, enhancing the work's precious characterThe sculpture features a bronze patina with warm, coppery hues, capturing the light to highlight the reliefs and the finesse of the chisel work. The entire piece rests majestically on an integrated circular bronze base, itself surmounted by a gray-and-white veined marble pedestal, adding a touch of prestige and noble contrast.Created by the renowned French sculptor Étienne Henri Dumaige (a student of Feuchère and Dumont), this piece embodies the finesse and refinement of Second Empire academic sculpture.Period: 19th centuryGood conditionShipping available upon quote in France and internationallyDimensions:Width: 15 cmDepth: 16 cmHeight: 43 cmWeight: 7.7 kgReference: 749V
