Description

Louis XVI / Directoire-period lacquered chest of drawers. Late 18th century. Crafted from walnut wood and relacquered in gray, this chest of drawers is adorned with alternating light and dark wood inlay bands. These inlays are found on the drawers, the top, the side panels, the legs, and the sides. The top is painted in a faux marble finish (Carrara white). The front side panels are chamfered and end in sheathed legs. This chest of drawers features four drawers arranged in three rows. Two later-added, functional locks, complete with two antique keys, are fitted to the top drawers. The two large drawers retain their original locks. The bronze handles feature lion's heads, and the lock plates are decorated with knots and foliage motifs. Dimensions: W 126 x D 56.5 x H 86.5
