Description

Contemporary band ring in 750/°° white gold (18 KT, eagle-head hallmark), adorned with a delicate, fully openwork floral design and set with brilliant-cut and pear-shaped diamonds, for a total weight of 2.23 carats.Its generous setting is distinguished by remarkable openwork craftsmanship, forming an interlacing pattern of sinuous stems, leaves, and five-petaled flowers that unfold harmoniously around the entire circumference of the ring.The brilliant-cut diamonds, set at the center of the flowers and dotting the foliage, alternate with pear-shaped diamonds whose tapered form naturally follows the contours of the petals and leaves. This combination of cuts gives the design a distinctive rhythm, a high degree of realism, and a sense of movement, as if the botanical motif were winding freely around the finger.The curved lines of the polished white gold flow smoothly with this movement, while the numerous openwork details allow light to pass through and reveal the finesse of the jewelry craftsmanship. The contrast between the smooth gold surfaces and the sparkle of the diamonds highlights every detail of the motif, giving this ring remarkable luminosity without detracting from the lightness of its design.The meticulously crafted setting also features a largely openwork inner band, echoing the floral motifs visible on the exterior. This continuity of the design reflects a refined aesthetic sensibility even in the least visible parts of the piece.Despite its width, this ring was designed to be comfortable to wear. Its band features a strategically placed indentation on the underside, allowing the finger joint to move freely and facilitating the natural closing of the hand.Both striking and ethereal, this contemporary creation combines the richness of a generously diamond-set floral design with exquisite craftsmanship. A ring full of character--feminine and luminous--whose openwork motifs trace a truly precious lace pattern on the skin.Estimated total diamond weight: 2.23 caratsTotal gross weight: 4.98 gRing size: 52--cannot be resized (current diameter 1.68 cm / US size 6)Ring width: 1 cmCondition: very good condition, imperceptible micro-scratches, natural inclusions in the diamonds not visible to the naked eye.Payment can be made entirely online via the website.Please feel free to contact us for any information regarding alternative payment methods.Are you a professional?
