Description

Portrait of a bourgeois, signed and dated 1834, in a period frame and glass, with worn gilding. The signature is partially illegible: first name "Jeanny"? It may be the signature of the artist--either the painter or a woman of high society taking lessons from a portrait artist. The delicacy of the pastel, the dandy-bourgeois attire (frock coat and white scarf)--typical of the Louis-Philippe era--and this mysterious cursive signature confirm that this is a work ofhigh quality, executed by an artist (Jeanny) who was well-versed in literary conventions.Shows signs of use. Visible dimensions: 44 x 53 cm; frame: 59.5 x 70 cm. The item is heavy; packaging and shipping are extra.
