Description

A magnificent antique Portuguese military silk handkerchief. Featuring a design depicting the naval fleet's cruisers: the Adamastor and the St. Raphaël. Also depicted are the portraits of Miguel Bombarda and Candido Dos Reis, who died in 1910, as well as soldiers with rifles. Superb craftsmanship! In very good condition; the scarf or handkerchief has retained its fairly vivid colors! Superbly framed in a mahogany frame with brass studs. Sizes: 40x40 and 45x45 cm. A very attractive collector's item--not to be missed! Visually very decorative! And of high quality!
