Description

This superb charcoal study of a young nude man in a three-quarter view, dated December 24, 1841, and whose signature remains undeciphered, points to an artist of proven talent. It is framed with a dark bluish-gray mat and a black molded frame from the same period, which really showcase the drawing. Museum-quality, in perfect condition (just a slight water stain that does not require cleaning). This study will be a wonderful addition to your art collection at a very reasonable price. Dimensions of the drawing: 56 cm x 45 cm (Free shipping within Paris)
