A Louis XVI-style mantelpiece in white marble and chiseled, gilded bronze dating from the second half of the 19th century (Napoleon III period). The set consists of three pieces:A central portico clock topped by a bronze figure depicting a cherub seated next to a globe, with a pendulum shaped like a radiant sun. The enameled dial displays the hours in Arabic numerals and is signed "Champion au Havre." A pair of matching two-light candelabras on either side, crafted from the same materials and featuring the same decorative motifs (garlands, pearls, and acanthus leaves in gilded bronze) to perfectly frame the clock. The bronze parts are finely chiseled, and the gilding is in perfect original condition. The clock is in perfect working order...
