Description

Regency chest of drawers in walnut and various woods - 18th centuryA very beautiful 18th-century Regency chest of drawers, made of walnut and various woods, featuring remarkable veneer work and a wide variety of wood grains.The front features three wide drawers, adorned with inlays and geometric patterns that highlight the wood's various grain patterns and orientations.The sides feature beautiful molded and scroll-cut panels. The front displays an elegant flow, accentuated by a scroll-cut lower rail resting on four curved, scroll-style legs--characteristic of the Regency style.The top is particularly decorative, composed of several layers of wood and veneers arranged in geometric patterns, creating a beautiful effect of movement and depth.The chest retains its bronze fittings,
