Description

An authentic piece from the early 20th century, this small mahogany bookcase embodies the understated and refined charm of fine furniture. Its harmonious silhouette, supported by a solid mahogany frame, reveals a naturally rich and warm grain. The piece is topped with a Carrara marble slab framed by a brass molding.Equipped with two adjustable shelves on rails, it offers ample storage space while maintaining a light and balanced appearance. Its straight lines, slightly sculpted base, and fluted legs with meticulous finishes exemplify the artisanal craftsmanship of the era, when every detail was designed to last.This bookcase stands out for its timeless elegance, blending seamlessly into both classic interiors and contemporary decor seeking pieces with character. Ideal for displaying books,
