Description

Exceptional Mega-Kite floor lamp (Terra version with telescopic height), designed by Marc Sadler in the early 2000s and produced by the renowned Italian company FOSCARINI. As this model is no longer in production, it is a piece sought after by collectors and enthusiasts of contemporary lighting design. The highlight of this piece is its imposing shade made of molded synthetic resin reinforced with fiberglass. On the outside: a striated texture of fine horizontal lines in subtle relief, directly inspired by the aesthetic of bamboo and rice paper, rendered here in an ultra-durable, lightweight composite material. When off, the floor lamp presents a minimal, highly sculptural silhouette. Once lit, the fiberglass weave reveals its graphic pattern and diffuses the light with great softness, creating an
