PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Louis XVI-style "silent Servant" Side Table With 2 Marble And Gilded Bronze Trays

1 290 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Wood marquetry

Description

Louis XVI-style "silent servant" pedestal table with two trays, marble and gilded bronze, 19th centuryElegant 19th-century pedestal table, known as a "silent servant," with two superimposed circular trays connected by a fluted central shaft.The upper tray, made of white marble veined with gray, is surrounded by an openwork railing. Its rim is adorned with a frieze of drapery with tassels in gilded bronze, whose relief stands out against the warm tones of the wood.The lower tray, which is wider, features a sunburst wood veneer that highlights the nuances of the grain. It is bordered by a gallery with oval cutouts, and its rim is punctuated by gilded bronze rosettes. The tapered, fluted legs, finished with small gilded feet, emphasize the slender silhouette.The two tiered tabletops and the

Dealer

Leleu Antiquités

Généraliste

Mobile : 0607415540

Varreddes 77910

contrast between the light marble, the wood, and the gilded bronze ornaments give this pedestal table its distinctive character. It will naturally find its place next to an armchair or as a display stand for collectibles.DimensionsTotal height -- 90 cmDiameter of the upper tabletop -- 42 cmDiameter of the lower tabletop -- 48 cmDELIVERY ONLY IN PARIS AND THE ÎLE-DE-FRANCE REGION FOR 120.00 EUROSFor other shipping options, please provide your ZIP code and city so I can make a request with the carriers