Description

A magnificent French tapestry from the Le Point de l'Halluin workshop, depicting a scene of aristocratic life in the countryside during the reign of Louis XII.This composition, inspired by medieval tapestries, features several figures in period costumes moving through a lush garden, surrounded by trees, flowers, birds, and animals.The rich detail, harmonious colors, and dark background particularly highlight this refined scene. The entire piece is framed by a wide decorative border featuring floral and plant motifs.The tapestry retains its original label from the Le Point de l'Halluin workshop on the reverse side, attesting to its French manufacture and specifying the subject depicted.A beautiful, large-scale decorative piece, ideal for adorning a wall and adding character to a classic or
