Description

An antique fireplace made of solid walnut in the Louis XV style, dating from the 19th century, characteristic of the furniture and interior architecture of beautiful Provençal mansions.This mantelpiece stands out for its dynamic lines and richly carved ornamentation, inspired by the 18th-century Rocaille decorative style.The upper fascia features a beautiful symmetrical composition, embellished with panels bearing finely carved latticework and highlighted at its center by a remarkable radiating shell motif, framed by volutes and scrollwork.The straight jambs, with their elegant moldings, rest on solid legs with molded bases, giving the entire piece excellent stability and a strong architectural presence.Crafted from walnut, this fireplace offers a warm tone and a particularly appealing
