Description

Polychrome earthenware basin with lion heads, in the style of Italian majolicaEarthenware basin with a rounded body, resting on a flared pedestal. Two lion heads modeled in relief, each holding a ring in its mouth, form the side handles.The painted decoration features a different medallion on each side. The first depicts a woman draped in blue alongside a winged putto in a landscape. The second depicts three women, one of whom is holding a tambourine. Classical figures, bouquets, and blue ribbons frame the scenes. A frieze of olive-green leaves accentuates the rim, while the pedestal repeats the motifs of figures and flowers.The palette of blue, olive green, and ochre yellow evokes Italian Renaissance majolica.Period: late 19th-early 20th centuryDimensions -- 28 cm high × 40 cm wide ×
