Description

DescriptionThis expressive oil painting by a presently unidentified artist depicts green and purple figs arranged across a pale tabletop. Broad, sweeping brushstrokes define the fruit through contrasts of violet, russet, bright green and near-black, with warm areas of exposed board enlivening the surface. Deep shadows connect the loosely described forms, while the muted grey foreground balances the darker background. Visible brush marks and broken passages of colour give the composition its lively, spontaneous character. The simplified shapes and heightened contrasts place the work stylistically within an expressionist approach to still life, offering a distinctive accent for an intimate dining space or a considered arrangement of art.ArtistArtist presently unidentified; signed at
