Description

An elegant coffee table of Florentine craftsmanship, dating from the early 19th century, embodying the refined tradition of semi-precious stone inlay that made Tuscan workshops famous throughout Europe. The circular top is finely inlaid with a rich variety of marble slabs, arranged to form a harmonious decorative design in the neoclassical style, featuring floral and geometric motifs of great compositional balance. Inlaid marble top, white alabaster baseThe polychromatic effect of the marbles--carefully selected and paired--creates a striking interplay of colors that highlights the technical mastery of the artisans, who were able to achieve perfectly polished surfaces and details of extraordinary precision. The edge is finished with understated elegance, further enhancing the complexity of the
