Description

Oval pocket box made of solid silver, distinguished by its lid adorned with a superb high-relief design depicting a historic temple inspired by the architecture of Angkor Wat, with its towers and monumental approach. The body of the box is finely chased with friezes and decorative motifs all around its structure. The interior retains an authentic patina, and the base of the piece bears clearly identifiable silversmith's hallmarks and authenticity marks. A unique and charming collector's piece, ideal for storing small precious items or for lovers of Asian art and antique silverware.Weight: 36g
