Description

A highly decorative gold-plated metal ceiling light from the 1970s, shaped like a radiant sun.Its domed central disc, accented by a raised, dotted border, is adorned with a small rosette. It is surrounded by a multitude of long, tapered, undulating rays, creating a particularly elegant silhouette.The patinated gold finish offers beautiful nuances, highlighting the metal's texture and the movement of the rays.The sockets positioned on the reverse side allow for indirect lighting: the light sources are concealed behind the central disc, creating a halo around the sun.A highly decorative light fixture, as appealing when turned off as when turned on, that will fit perfectly in a classic or contemporary interior.Patina and wear on the gold finish are visible in the photographs.Dimensions:Total
