Description

A late 19th-century Venetian blown-glass chandelier, featuring an elegant aqua-green hue. The central structure is adorned with rich floral decorations, with eight lights supported by curved arms that alternate with cascading leaves, creating a dynamic and refined effect. Each arm is further embellished with flowers and leaves, lending a sense of harmony and natural beauty. Despite some minor imperfections typical of the period, the chandelier retains its original charm, characteristic of Murano's masterful craftsmanship. It features 8 E14 light bulbs.Product condition:This lamp, due to its age and wear, may require restoration work and likely has an electrical system that does not comply with current regulations. We strive to present the lamp's actual condition as completely as possible
