PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Anatomical Model Of Dr. Auzoux

2 250 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Paper

Description

A polychrome anatomical model by Dr. Auzoux, displayed on a rectangular dark wooden base. The face, half-skeletal, reveals the teeth, while the muscles of the back and the vessels of the neck stand out in shades of ochre, red, and blue.The side of the torso opens to reveal the lungs, heart, liver, and intestines. Several organs are removable, as is the skull. The small numbered labels still visible serve as a reminder of this anatomical model's educational purpose.The polychrome paint shows signs of wear and small chips visible in the photographs. With its blue eyes and organs that can be explored piece by piece, this anatomical model is perfectly at home in a cabinet of curiosities.Height of the anatomical model · 39 cmGlass globe used for photographic display only.

Dealer

Eclectik

Généraliste

Mobile : 0695144243

56 rue du tour de ville

Issigeac 24560