Description

Umbertino small sofa in walnut, from Italy, dating from the late 19th century, featuring a finely openwork backrest with three elements made of Vienna straw. The armrests elegantly taper to a curl and are supported by volute-style legs, while the turned, octagonal-section legs lend further refinement to the piece. The seat, also made of Vienna straw, is embellished with a burgundy velvet-upholstered cushion, complemented by two matching cushions that add comfort and a touch of color. This piece is a classic example of the taste and craftsmanship of the Umbertine era, ideal for enriching classic interiors with a touch of history and style.Product condition:Due to its age and wear, this product requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully
