Description

A beautiful original color etching by Chas Laborde (1886-1941), titled "Aux belles poules," plate no. 20 from the album "Rues et visages de Paris", published in 1926.This picturesque and lively composition evokes the nightlife of Paris during the Roaring Twenties. With his incisive line work, keen eye for detail, and subtle color palette, Chas Laborde presents a scene full of character, reflecting his unique perspective on Parisian life between the two world wars.The work depicts the famous Parisian brothel "Aux Belles Poules," located at 32 Rue Saint-Denis, an iconic venue of Parisian nightlife at the time.Created using intaglio printing, this print features a beautifully defined intaglio, indicating that it was printed from a plate.The plate is accompanied by its original protective slip,
