Description

An elegant circular Italian side table from the Neoclassical period, dating from the early 19th century. It features a white Carrara marble top with a double flute, resting on a walnut ring. Its tripod base, made of dark-patinated walnut to imitate bronze, is adorned with gilded lion heads and ends in feet shaped like lion's claws. The three legs are joined by a circular crossbar, also made of dark-patinated walnut. A piece with elegant lines, characteristic of early 19th-century Italian neoclassical taste.
