Description

Jaguar by Rosetta.The feline's rounded posture is impressively lifelike.These lines are reminiscent of the Cubist period.They complement the marble's straight lines on its various beveled surfaces perfectly.The bronze, with its original patina, is beautifully highlighted by the position of the tail.The jaguar is slender and appears to be in motion.It contrasts with the rigid, straight marble, which seems carved directly from the rock.The size and combination of materials make it come alive and easy to display.Delivery available; not included in the price.
