Description

A beautiful Empire-period console table in light mahogany and gilded bronze, topped with a rare marble--Bleu Tigré--which resembles Bleu Turquin in tone. The back is fitted with a mercury mirror. Empire-Restoration period, circa 1810-1820.A beautiful piece in very good condition; the buff-polished finish has been cleaned and repolished by our cabinetmaker. Our console table retains a long marble slab at the back so that it extends over the wood paneling.Width: 113.7 cmHeight: 92 cmDepth: 48.5 cm
