Description

Pierre Chapo S15 armchair, solid elm and brown leather
Low seat, compact volume, fully visible structure: nothing of the construction is concealed, and that is what holds the design.
Solid elm frame and legs, stretchers joined with through-tenons whose keys remain visible. The wood has a warm, even patina.
Back and seat rest on natural cognac leather webbing, saddle-stitched and riveted to the frame.
On top, two brown leather cushions tufted with a central button. The contrast between the two leathers is one of the model's signatures. A reading chair: seat height 30 cm, compact footprint.
Dating: the S15 model was designed in 1966. The production date of this example is not
