Description

Pair of gilded iron end tables Italy, in the style of the Palladio firm, Second half of the 20th century Very good condition, glasses in excellent condition. Pair of Italian side tables in gilded iron with rope-motif decoration, in the style of the Palladio House, in the pure Hollywood Regency style.Square in shape, they feature a clear glass top set within a frame mimicking a twisted rope. This motif extends to the four legs, which end in a tassel reminiscent of trimmings. A twisted X-shaped brace connects the legs.The combination of glass and gilded iron emphasizes the structure's lightness while allowing the design of the crossbars to show through. The original gilding has a nuanced patina and shows minor wear in places.These tables can be placed on either side of a sofa or used separately as side
