Description

Description :This set of three clear crystal candlesticks dates to the early 20th century. Each candlestick has a slender faceted stem, a broad circular foot and a flared candle cup with vertical fluting beneath a thick rim. An angular collar sits just below the cup, while a stepped collar connects the stem to the foot. A starburst pattern radiates across the underside of each base and is visible through the clear crystal.Two of the three candlesticks are engraved on the cups and stems with stylized flowers, curling foliage and small dotted accents. The frosted motifs stand out against the polished facets and are especially visible against a dark background. The third candlestick has the same faceted silhouette and starburst base, with a plain cup and stem.Arranged in a row down the center of a
