Description

An iconic piece of American design from the 1950s-1960s, this three-seater bench is an exemplary specimen of the Parallel Bar N°53 model, designed by the renowned Florence Knoll for Knoll International. An absolute classic of twentieth-century design furniture, instantly recognizable by the rigor and elegance of its lines.

It comprises three independent assembled modules, each equipped with a distinct seat cushion and backrest, upholstered in fine cognac-toned faux leather embellished with a regular square grid quilting, executed with equal care on both front and back. This all-around finish testifies to a design conceived for open and institutional spaces, faithful to Knoll's philosophy.

The structure in polished chrome tubular steel, sober and perfectly rectilinear, embodies with authority the formal vocabulary of Florence Knoll: structural minimalism, quality of execution and assumed functionality.

The ensemble displays light, consistent and honorable wear commensurate with a piece of this age, without apparent major defect. Very good general condition for a collector's piece destined to make its mark in any space.

Dimensions: W. 210 cm × D. 78 cm × H. 78 cm - Weight: 50 kg.

A rare acquisition for the Mid-Century American design enthusiast, equally suited for integration into a characterful residential interior or a professional or reception space.
