Description

A stunning 3-seater sofa by De Sede, model DS-700, produced in the 1980s by the renowned Swiss manufacturer. This collector's piece represents the very best of Swiss design: a generous, enveloping barrel/tub silhouette upholstered in carefully restored full-grain burgundy red leather. The curved back and armrests are highlighted by parallel decorative stitching, a refined signature of the De Sede house. At the rear, an elegant rounded perforated metal panel gives the piece a striking visual lightness, while the red lacquered tubular legs with black piping complete the boldly contemporary character of this model. The leather shows a beautiful natural patina consistent with the age of the piece, reflecting careful use over the years. A rare sofa that is at once sculpture and
