19th-century White Opaline Glass Bowl With Three Gilt Bronze Putti

725 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bronze

Description

Description :This 19th-century decorative bowl pairs white opaline glass with a gilt bronze tripod mount formed by three putti. The round bowl opens to a broad rim, its smooth, curved sides narrowing toward the base. The glass shifts from milky white to soft ivory and pale blue as the light changes, with the blue tones particularly apparent when the bowl is viewed from above.The three curly-haired figures stand around a circular band decorated with a narrow raised frieze. Each holds its arms behind its back and bends one leg, giving the impression that the putti are carrying the bowl mid-stride. Their poses give the mount a lively silhouette from every angle. The warm gilt finish catches the light on the curls and shoulders, while a darker patina accentuates the recessed details of the figures and the band.Its

Dealer

Chic French Antiques
Purveyor of fine French antiques dating from the 18th to the 20th century
Mobile : 0612049287

Showroom
La Ciotat 13600

compact proportions make it well suited to a console, a dressing table, or a cabinet display alongside other pieces of opaline glass. The bowl has a small chip to the rim, visible in the detail photographs.Dimensions H 11 cm (4.33 in) Ø 15 cm (5.91 in)