Description

A landscape depicting a house by the water, likely in the vicinity of Moret-sur-Loing, painted in oil on cardboard by Paul Zanaroff in his characteristic Expressionist style. The painting is signed in the upper right corner and dated 49. On the reverse, another riverside landscape is visible through a layer of whitewash--a common practice for this artist, who painted very quickly but was sometimes dissatisfied with the result.The painting is mounted in its original white-painted, molded wooden frame. Without the frame, the cardboard measures 49.5 x 61 cm.Paul Zanaroff was born in Moûtiers in 1885. After working in advertising, he became a painter, overcoming the difficulty of working with art dealers by setting up a stall at the Clignancourt flea market--notably at the Biron Market--to sell his own work.
