Description

A polychrome earthenware figurine inspired by traditional folk trades and the Lorraine-style models of Paul-Louis Cyfflé, depicting a young chimney sweep shivering from the cold (or an allegory of winter) wearing a patched jacket, a green vest, and yellow knee-length breeches with reinforced knees, with his arms crossed to warm his hands. A small satchel hangs from his hip.
Lunéville, late 18th century, circa 1780-1790.
Dimensions: height 17 cm - base 5.5 x 6 cm.
Very good overall condition. A tiny chip in the enamel on the back of the hat brim.
