Description

A splendid pair of crystal and gilded bronze cornucopias of Russian origin, dating from the early decades of the 19th century, at the height of the Empire period.These refined pieces are distinguished by the elegant, sinuous lines of the cornucopia-shaped bodies, crafted from finely cut transparent crystal and featuring exquisite geometric decorations and shell-motif upper borders. The cups rest on refined gilded bronze bases, embellished with finely chiseled naturalistic bird figures, which lend the ensemble a striking decorative character.The rectangular bases, embellished with faceted crystal elements, ornamental friezes, and finely crafted gilded bronze feet, harmoniously complete the composition.A pair of extraordinary elegance and exquisite craftsmanship, an expression of early
